PAM CAN HELP

Lichfield woman's bright idea for people juggling busy lives

Pam's mission is to help

Businesswoman Pam Beale's mission is to help those finding life a juggling act

MISSION ACCOMPLISHED

A Lichfield woman has launched a new business offering a helping hand to people trying to juggle their hectic lifestyles.

Mission Accomplished is the brainchild of Pam Beale, who lives in Birmingham Road, and will be a useful lifeline for residents and businesses in Lichfield, Tamworth and Sutton Coldfield.

The business was set up to take care of all little tasks that people often do not have time to do - from cleaning out the kitchen cupboards to organising a party.

Mrs Beale, aged 38, came up with the idea earlier this year after chatting with friends about the need for such a business in the area. "So much to do and so little time is a phrase we often hear," she said.

"In trying to split our valuable time between work, family and leisure, we all end up with lists of things to do and feel guilty about not dealing with them properly.

"Mission Accomplished can take control and make sure those tasks are completed."

Popular requests are finding cleaners, and waiting for deliveries while people are out.

She can be contacted on 01543 250953.
