

Solutions for busiest lives

A NEW city business is helping to come up with a solution to the oft-heard phrase 'so much to do and so little time' – something we often hear with our hectic lifestyles.

Mission Accomplished is a new lifestyle management business based in Lichfield.

It promises a cost-effective hour-by-hour solution for home and office task lists – everything from party planning to reorganising the kitchen cupboards.

Blocks of time can be bought in advance or as gift vouchers.

The founder, Pam Beale, has worked as an information manager in a top London law firm, fundraised and organised events for charities, and come to the rescue of many friends needing ideas and support in their lives.
